

SAILORS ATTACK HEADQUARTERS OF INDUSTRIAL WORKERS OF THE WORLD

SACK BUILDINGS IN SEATTLE AND DUMP FURNITURE INTO STREET WITH AID OF MEN AND BOYS

Two Distinct Parties Make Attack--Provost Guard Sent Ashore from Warships to Quell Disorder--At 10:30 Police and Guard Had Situation in Hand--Secretary Daniels Makes Speech Against Red Flag.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—A mob of sailors from the Pacific reserve fleet at anchor in the bay aided by hundreds of men and boys who came down to join the golden potlatch. Seattle's annual celebration attacked the Socialist and Industrial Workers of the World headquarters tonight sacking the buildings and dumping the furniture into the streets. Two distinct parties made the attack. The first in the northern part of the business district wrecked the Socialist headquarters near Fifth avenue and Virginia street. The second, in the southern part of the downtown section, of the Pacific of the World headquarters dumping the furniture into the street and making a bonfire of it. A provost guard of fifty men was sent ashore from the warships to quell the disorder but at 10:30 o'clock 200 yelling civilians, headed by a dozen men and warmsen carrying aloft the stars and stripes paraded down Fourth avenue from Pike street, the center of the night life of the city, toward Washington street where most of the Industrial Workers of the World congregated. The police and the provost guard had taken hold of the situation and believed at that hour that no further damage could be done. The provost guard was rounding up all the sailors ashore and sending them back to their ships. Secretary of the Navy Daniels was dining on the Cruiser West Virginia, the guest of Admiral Reynolds at the time the rioting began.

Dozen Sailors in First Party.
About a dozen man-of-war-men all young were in the first wrecking party to get under way. They were aided by several members of the Washington naval militia and by a hundred young civilians, who made most of the noise. Waving United States flags, the storming party swooped down on the newsstand of Millard Price, a socialist orator at the intersection of Fourth avenue and West Lake Boulevard, the busiest night corner of the city. The cart was broken to splinters in a moment and the big stock of Socialist papers and magazines torn, tossed into the street and jumped upon.

The mob then rushed to a room occupied until recently by the industrial workers of the world at Fifth avenue near Stewart. The wreckers found the place deserted, the tenants having moved. They proceeded to the socialist headquarters on Fifth, near Stewart, smashed in the plate glass front and nailed American flags on the front of the building. Two policemen smiled complacently upon the wreckers. The sailors tore the signs from the front of the building and broke them to pieces and then started to drag the furniture and books into the street but the policemen stopped them. There were demands that the industrial workers be hunted down and a young civilian in a white suit tried to induce the party to go to the headquarters of the Moderate Socialists in an old church on Olive street near Seventh. Another self-appointed leader led the party toward the old church on Union street which had just been vacated by the Moderates.

Police Disperse Sailors.
As the naval men were crossing Pike street at Sixth, they were overhauled by an automobile full of policemen headed by a captain who told the sailors that if they did not disperse he would arrest everyone of them. The policemen by maneuvering separated the mob in uniform and scattered them. No handling of them was necessary. The men shouted: "Your mayor won't do anything to protect the flag, so we are saving your city."

A young civilian who had been endeavoring to incite the sailors kept shouting to them to "go and get Mayor Cottrell." No arrests were made.

Demolish Red Socialist Hall.
After the police had dispersed the small group of sailors, marines and young civilians at Sixth and University streets, the men moved back to Fourth avenue and West Lake, received large reinforcements from the fleet and the neighboring saloons and the street crowds and moved north to the Red Socialist headquarters on the west side of Fifth avenue which they demolished burning all furniture and literature.

Some one shouted that there was a Socialist headquarters in an old church on Olive street and the mob was soon running thither. The church was broken into and sacked, the books and furniture being dragged into the street and burned.

Break Into Wrong Place.
The mob returned back to West Lake avenue and after some false starts reached an alley near Washington street and First avenue south. The leaders of the mob, uniformed men from the fleet broke up packing boxes in the alley and smashed in the alley doors of a building that contained numerous chairs and which to the sailors seemed to be a nest of Industrial Workers. As the men plunged into the building the lights were turned out but matches were lighted and the sailors began to break chairs and benches. The door leading into a larger and lighter room was broken open. A sailor dashing into the room, hurled an organ off a platform then seizing a heavy chair proceeded to demolish the organ. Other men in uniform smashed chairs and broke benches and worked havoc. One of the men, tearing down a motto "God Is Love" from the wall started back and said "Boys, we're all wrong." It was then discovered the place was a Salvation Army meeting room. Some of the sailors refused to stop their demolition of the furniture but half a dozen policemen aided by some of the sailors cleared the building of wreckers. The mob then marched toward Pioneer place which was full of Potlatch merry-makers.

By this time the provost guard had landed and marched up Washington street, apparently being unable to locate their rioting comrades.

Mayor Allowed Street Speaking.
Seattle, Wash., July 18.—During the administration of Mayor George Cotterill all street speakers have been given full license to speak as long and as loudly as they chose, provided they do not block traffic or display the red flag. The Industrial Workers of the World have held meetings every night at three public squares. The meetings generally have been orderly. Mayor Cottrell has been assailed in the newspapers "Mayor Cottrell." No arrest was speaking by the industrial workers but he has insisted that the meetings did not violate the law.

During the Golden Potlatch celebration hundreds of men from the Pacific reserve fleet were given shore leave and yesterday many soldiers from Fort Lawton and Fort Flagler were at liberty.

A number of soldiers and sailors got into a fight with men attending an Industrial Workers meeting on Washington street last night and three soldiers were beaten, two of them severely as to require dressing of their injuries at the City Hospital.

Prizes Boston Mayor.
Shortly before last midnight Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, addressing a banquet given at the Rainier Club in his honor, spoke in tribute to the American flag and took otherwise for permitting public mayors of Boston who stopped a red flag parade.

"The red flag has no place in this country," he said. "And believers in it have no place in this country. A mayor who does not enforce the law against the red flag is not fit to hold office and people who believe in the red flag should be driven from this country."

Mr. Daniels then passed on to a eulogy of President Wilson and closed his address amid great cheering. His red flag remarks occupied only a minute and those who observed him closely said that he had no intention of making them apply locally. However, word that the secretary had made a long address devoted to the flags and had urged that all believers in the red flag be driven out of the country. It was also declared that he had made a direct attack on Mayor Cottrell, who sat directly behind him. The fact was that the mayor accompanied the secretary from the banquet to the press club reception and has been with the secretary during much of his stay.

It is believed that Mr. Daniels had no knowledge of any Seattle controversy over the red flag.

Riot at Portland Quelled.
Portland, Ore., July 18.—When Sheriff Thomas Word attempted to arrest an Industrial Worker of the World orator in one of the city parks tonight a mob of several hundreds men offered resistance. A squad of plain clothes police and deputy sheriffs was rushed to the aid of the sheriff and quelled the outbreak but when the sheriff started for the court with his prisoner, George W. Reese, the mob gave pursuit. It was driven back and five ring leaders were arrested.

OKLAHOMA CITY CHOSEN FOR NEXT D. O. K. CONVENTION
Imperial Palace of Knights of Khorassan Closes Minneapolis Business Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 18.—The biennial session of the Imperial Palace of Knights of Khorassan closed its business session late today and most of the delegates have departed. At the final session Oklahoma City was chosen for the next convention. At the close of yesterday's session it was given out that Buffalo was named for the 1915 convention but this proved to be untrue.

A resolution was adopted prohibiting members of the order from entering a saloon while wearing the official fez or regalia of the order,

LITTLE CHANGE IN BALKAN SITUATION

ROUMANIANS AND BULGARIANS FIGHTING AT BELOGRADCHIK

Bulgaria Now Seeking Through Italy to Obtain Peace Terms From Rumania--Greeks Charged With Firing on Hospital.

LONDON, July 18.—Except for a report coming by way of Paris that a battle is progressing between the Rumanians and Bulgarians at Belogradchik, 65 miles northwest of Sofia, which was not mentioned today in direct despatches received from Bucharest, the general situation in the Balkans remained unchanged.

Bulgaria now is seeking through Italy to obtain peace terms from Rumania but no progress appears to have been made towards negotiations and all three of her enemies are closing in on Bulgaria with the apparent determination to direct peace when their armies occupy Sofia.

Greeks Charged With Massacre.
Sofia, Bulgaria, July 18.—The general commanding the Bulgarian army operating against the Greeks officially charges the Greek troops with deliberately raking with their cannon fire the hospital at Demir-Hissar in spite of the fact that the Red Cross flag was flying over the building. A few of the hospital attendants fled, the general says, but the remainder of the nurses and all the patients were killed. A few of the sick and wounded who had managed to crawl out from the ruins were shot down by Greek soldiers. The general also charges the Greek troops with massacring the entire population of Kilkish.

Replies to King Ferdinand.

London, July 19.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Bucharest says that King Charles of Rumania replied Friday to the appeal of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria for peace terms by referring him to Rumania's last note demanding the cessation of hostilities between Turtukal in North Bulgaria, and Balchik on the Black Sea, and participation in a general Balkan settlement.

According to a despatch from Athens to the Daily Telegraph, King Ferdinand has addressed a note to the French president, M. Poincare, soliciting France's intervention and entrusting Bulgaria's interest to the powers.

Rumors have been circulated in some of the European capitals that King Ferdinand is in flight and that his queen has arrived at Erstbrunn in lower Austria, where her nephew, the Prince of Reuss, resides. Both of the rumors are denied in responsible Bulgarian quarters. The Daily Mail's Bucharest correspondent says the Rumanian government has not actually decided to occupy Sofia but will take all the passes stretching across Bulgaria.

Queen Eleanora of Bulgaria has telegraphed an appeal to Queen Caradance of the Rumanian army. The advance of the Rumanian army. The Rumanian queen replied that troops would continue to advance "but with the greatest consideration."

FARMER FINDS BODY OF WOMAN TIED TO FENCE POST

Physicians Think She Might Have Been Dead Two Days--No Means of Identification Among Effects.

Chicago, July 18.—The body of a well dressed young woman was found by a farmer today tied in an upright position to a fence post beside a cornfield near Oak Forest, Ill. A row of trees screened the fence from the road. The woman was not more than 25 years old. Her gold watch was still pinned to the breast of her dress and a pocketbook lay near her.

Physicians thought the woman might have been dead two days. No means of identification were among the effects found. She was supported by a strip of cloth evidently torn from her dress and tied around her neck and to the post. It was thought unlikely that the woman could have committed suicide. There was no sign of a struggle near the fence or any trace of footprints.

EXCITEMENT ATTENDS CAPTURE OF NEGRO CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Sheriff Spirits Prisoner Out of Cairo When Informed That Mob Was Being Formed.

Cairo, Ill., July 28.—Considerable excitement was created in Cairo tonight over the capture of Ellis Edmunds, negro charged with an attempted assault on a young daughter of Thomas Scott of McGee Springs, Ky., and the serious wounding of her brother, who came to her rescue.

When Sheriff VanCice of Ballard county, Kentucky, heard that a mob was being formed in Kentucky to lynch the negro, he spirited the prisoner out of Cairo. The mob failed to make its appearance.

CHICAGO CREW TAKES TWO FIRSTS

Peoria, Ill., July 18.—The Lincoln Park Rowing club of Chicago took two firsts at the opening day of the Southwestern Amateur Rowing association regatta in the junior events here today.

Other honors were well scattered in the seven events, three St. Louis crews, a Quincy and a Peoria crew each taking a first.

SENATORS DEBATE BRYAN'S POLICY

Controversy Begins With Bristow's Criticism of Cabinet Officer

EXCITEMENT RUNS HIGH

Argument Goes from Personal Accusations to General Field of Public Lecturing and Writing

TALKS WITH NEWSPAPERMEN

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Secretary Bryan's policy of lecturing in his vacation time involved the senate in a bitter controversy today. It began when Senator Bristow, ignoring the defeat of his resolution directed at Mr. Bryan's action, insisted upon being heard in severe criticism of the cabinet officer. Before the debate ended, charges and counter-charges between senators on the two sides of the chamber had brought the senate to a high pitch of excitement. Senator Ashurst produced an old letter of Senator Bristow's which he declared indicated that Mr. Bristow in 1906 had been perfectly willing to take a federal position and devote only part of his time to it.

Bristow Brings Countercharge.

Senator Bristow retorted with the charge that Senator Ashurst had spent over $100 of public funds sending private telegrams that should have been paid for from his own pocket, a charge denied by Senator Ashurst but which Senator Bristow agreed to prove by producing original telegrams that had been paid for out of senate funds. From these personal accusations the debate went into the general field of public lecturing and writing and Democratic senators called attention to the chautauqua platform work of Senator Bristow and many others and to the newspaper writing that Senator Bristow had done during the last Baltimore convention. The Kansas senator emphatically declared that he had never neglected the duties of his office. "I am not on trial here," he said.

"I simply want to show that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones," said Senator James.

Senators Bristow, Townsend, Fall and others, attacked in strong language the action of Secretary Bryan in delivering paid lectures during a time when they claimed public questions required his close attention to the affairs of the state department.

Resolution is Tabled.

The Bristow resolution introduced Thursday calling upon President Wilson to state what salary would be sufficient to satisfy Mr. Bryan, was tabled, all the Democrats and Senators Borah and Poincaré opposing it.

A prepared attack upon Secretary Bryan's action by Senator Townsend and an extensive defense by Senator Lewis, Illinois, illuminated the oratory of the day.

Senator Townsend insisted the example of the secretary in selling his time for private gain, when it had already been sold to the government was unwholesome for the entire country.

Senator Lewis asked when the senator from Kansas and the senator from Michigan had become so "subtly inoculated with a public official spending his vacation addressing the people on questions of vital interest to them. He said it could not have been when a Republican president was campaigning at the expense of the taxpayers.

"There was the voice of protest when a postoffice official turned himself into a great political machine to elect another public official to the presidency," he inquired.

"Where was the voice when Major Ray abandoned his post in the army to engage in political work in Chicago for a presidential candidate. Why were the voices of the senate silent then? Was it because these men were not Democrats? Where was the voice when officials of previous administrations were speculating on the stock market and on tariff bills?"

Bryan Talks With Newspapermen.

Secretary Bryan talked freely with the newspapermen today by his much discussed and criticized plan to spend his vacation on the lecture platform. He said he probably would make a little over $250 on each lecture and added: "When I return I'll tell you just how much I have made."

Mr. Bryan will leave tomorrow night and will deliver his first lecture before the Winona, Indiana, chautauqua assembly Sunday afternoon. He will make as many additional lectures as time will permit before his return for his conference with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson now enroute to Washington from Mexico City to make the report to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, which probably will determine the future attitude of the United States toward the resolution in Mexico.

The secretary stated he was making

TREASURER OF ST. LOUIS PIANO FIRM SUICIDES

LEAVES NOTE THAT HE TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE

Difficulty in Meeting $250,000 Business Obligation Believed to Have Been Cause of Act--Suicide Was Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—Edmund J. Piper, treasurer of a large piano concern here committed suicide by drinking poison in his home in St. Louis county today. This was the verdict of a coroner's jury in spite of a note left by Piper to his wife in which he said he had taken the poison by mistake.

Difficulty in meeting a $250,000 business obligation is believed to have been the cause of his act. His son testified at the inquest that a few minutes before the body was found his father called him on the telephone and said:

"I've had a stroke." Then the receiver dropped. Immediately after the strange message the son rushed home and found his father dead.

Piper came to his office at 9 o'clock this morning and left shortly thereafter saying he was going to a bank and would be back within an hour. He never returned. The verdict of suicide was returned after Dr. Rolla Bracy, former coroner of St. Louis county testified that a man who had swallowed a fatal dose of the poison could not have written a note afterwards.

Piper was known in musical circles throughout the country. He was born in Decatur, Ill., 52 years ago. In 1885 he entered the establishment as collector and gradually worked his way to its head. Two years ago he bought the controlling interest in the concern and himself related that he made the $250,000 deal with very little of his own money.

BOARD OF MEDIATION WILL HOLD ITS FIRST MEETING TODAY

Preparation to Be Made For Consideration of Controversy of Railroads and Trainmen.

Washington, July 18.—The new federal board of mediation and conciliation will hold its first meeting here tomorrow morning to organize and prepare for immediate consideration of the controversy between the eastern railroads and their 80,000 trainmen and conductors. The call was issued late today by Judge William Lea Chambers whose appointment as commissioner with those of the other members of the board was sent to the senate by President Wilson today.

According to custom, the nominations were referred to a committee and will not be reported back to the senate until tomorrow, but their immediate confirmation is considered certain and Judge Chambers is going ahead with plans for the board's work.

Leave Decision to Board.

New York, July 18.—The eastern railroads engaged in a wage controversy with their 80,000 trainmen and conductors indicated tonight their willingness to leave with the board of mediation and conciliation appointed by President Wilson the decision as to which questions are to be submitted for arbitration under the Newlands' act. In a letter to the leaders of the trainmen the conference committee of managers said it seemed to them, "that the immediate difference of opinion relating to the points to be submitted for arbitration is a matter to be considered by the board of mediation and conciliation."

YOUNG MAN RESCUED FROM BRINK OF NIAGARA FALLS

Young Man Seen to Topple Backward Into Stream--Taken Out By Four Men.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 18.—Truman Chapman, 22 years old of Hamilton, Ont., was rescued from the brink of the American falls tonight by four men, one of whom took a desperate chance to reach him. Chapman was sitting on the iron railing just above Prospect Point and was seen to suddenly topple backwards into the stream. When the cry went up that a man was in the water four men leaped over the railing. They formed a chain from the iron fence and clinging to one man's hand enabled him to reach Chapman. Twice the man at the end of the chain was swept from his feet but he clung to his burden and the united efforts of the men finally swung both of them out of the grasp of the current.

GIRL RETURNS HOME

Galesburg, Ill., July 18.—Marie Hart, Galesburg's largest school girl, whose weight is said to be 325 pounds, returned to her grandmother's home here today. She disappeared Wednesday night and fears were entertained that she had been induced to leave home or had been kidnapped as a side show attraction. Marie said that she had been enticed away by a woman who said she would take her to Des Moines, Ia. Marie changed her mind, however, at Fort Madison, Ia., where she got off the train and refused to go further.

ing the trip under his own auspices and said he would not become president of the Winona chautauqua until its re-organization after its indebtedness has been liquidated.

HEAT CAUSES MORE THAN TWENTY DEATHS

LOUISVILLE WORST SUFFERER WITH TWELVE FATALITIES

St. Louis Adds Three More to Her List of Dead--Extreme Temperatures in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

CHICAGO, July 18.—More than twenty deaths were caused by heat today in the middle states. Louisville was the worst sufferer with twelve deaths, a maximum temperature of 104 and only 13 degrees drop at night. St. Louis added three more to that city's list of dead in the present heat wave. Extreme temperatures prevailed throughout portions of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

Unusual variations in temperature, however, were recorded on the government list.

Intense Heat Relieved.
The heat wave over the central west was relieved in many sections today and tonight. While some cities sweltered in the hundreds others were refreshed by moderate temperatures. Joplin, Mo., with 106 was the hottest city. Louisville, Ky., and Arkansas City, Kansas, suffered at 104 while St. Louis and Evansville, Ind., registered 102.

There was little refreshment tonight for Evansville apparently the thermometer at 8 p. m., standing at 96.

St. Louis had a little more relief at evening but faced a hot night at 88. Medicine Hat, Canada, reputed source of cold waves, was 96 yesterday and at night was 88. Suffering was intense at Louisville where extreme humidity caused twelve deaths and a number of prostrations. In Kansas and Missouri showers brought some relief. With these cities were suffering Chicago and Cleveland were comfortable at 76 and 78 and Buffalo was cool at 70. Other cities in the middle west were favored by temperatures not extreme for the season.

Three Die at St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 18.—Three deaths and as many prostrations were caused by the heat here today. The government thermometer registered 102 degrees in the shade at 3:30 p. m., one degree above the year's record which was attained yesterday.

Among the prostrated men was Captain Henry King, editor of the Globe-Democrat. He fell while walking in the street but was revived at home.

A mass of clouds which swept over the city in the afternoon produced a thunderstorm. The mercury began racing downward as fast as it had climbed during the day. At 6 o'clock it had dropped to 92 degrees and at 9 o'clock at 85 degrees.

The heat was similarly excessive throughout eastern Missouri and western Illinois. At Springfield, Mo., where the temperature also reached 102 degrees, two brothers were prostrated while on a carpenter's job. At Brighton, Illinois, Frank Murray a farmer boy was killed by lightning though there was no sign of rain.

Knoxville Reports 103 Degrees.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 18.—Knoxville had the hottest day in 26 years today when the mercury in the government thermometer climbed to 103 degrees. Six prostrations were recorded.

Six Fatalities in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 18.—Six deaths and numerous prostrations in Indiana today were the result of the heat wave in which this state has sweltered for three days. Five persons were drowned while seeking relief in swimming pools and another was overcome and died aboard a steamboat.

Princeton was the hottest spot in the state, the government thermometer registering 105.

UNITED STATES TEAM WINS.

Wimbledon, England, July 18.—The United States team won today from Canada the two single matches played in the final round of the preliminary tournament to select a team to challenge England for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy.

N. Norris Williams beat B. P. Schwengers, the Canadian champion, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, and Maurice E. McLoughlin won the second match from R. B. Powell at 10-8, 6-1, 6-4. Experts here consider the commanding lead thus obtained virtually assures that the United States will meet England next week at only one victory in the three remaining matches is needed to complete Canada's elimination.

TELLS OF EFFORTS TO BRIBE GOMPERS

Mulhall Admitted That He Had No Positive Knowledge of Attempt

HOLDS NIGHT SESSION

Committee Excused Mulhall Until Monday and Heard Testimony of S. W. McClave

CALLS MULHALL PERJURER

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Martin M. Mulhall today gave the senate lobby investigating committee his story of the alleged effort in 1907 or 1908 to bribe Samuel Gompers to desert the cause of labor and support the policies advocated by the National Association of Manufacturers. He admitted he had no positive knowledge that an attempt to bribe Gompers had been actually made, but he said Atherton Brownell of New York had outlined the plans to him and had told him of what was to be done.

Holds Night Session.

Mulhall was excused late this afternoon until Monday morning. The committee held a session tonight to hear the testimony of F. C. McClave of Paterson, N. J., now a candidate for congress and with whom Mulhall claimed he worked throughout the campaign of 1910 when McClave was running against William Hughes.

The committee opened the Gompers incident today when newspaper clippings appeared showing that Gompers had made the bribery charges before a court in 1908 and that President VanCleave of the Manufacturers' Association had denied all connection with them. Mulhall said he had been referred by VanCleave and Schwedman, to Mr. Brownell in New York, where he claimed to be conducting a publicity bureau for the association. Brownell told him, he said, that a man named Brandenburg was following Gompers; that they had a plan fixed up by which they expected to "get" the labor leader; and that they were positive they could not fail. Mulhall said he warned them they would not succeed and later advised VanCleave to the same effect.

VanCleave left New York suddenly, the witness said, after telling him that he had nearly "fallen into a trap."

"He said they wanted him to go down town to meet those people, but he got a tip not to go," added Mulhall. "He told me he thought Brownell had more sense than to go into a trap of that kind."

This was the extent of Mulhall's knowledge of the matter, but he insisted that from the previous information he should know the plan that had been on foot to force Gompers into signing a document that would insure his future action. The Gompers story and an unexpected outburst from Mulhall, who complained that officers of the N. A. M. were trying to "stare him out of countenance" were the enlivening features of a day in which the self-confessed "lobbyist" identified several hundreds more of the letters relating to the campaign and legislative activities. Proceedings were running smoothly when Robert McCarter, attorney for the manufacturers' association, tried to interrupt and ask Mulhall a question. The committee has thus far permitted no questioning by outside attorneys.

Refused to Answer Attorney.

"I refuse to answer any questions from that man," shouted Mulhall. "Further, I want to tell the committee that those men at that table have kept someone there continually to stare steadily at me while I have been on the stand. I think it is a contemptible trick. The ex-president (John Kirby, Jr.) relieved Mr. Emery at the job a little while ago."

Members of the committee tried to soothe the witness and acting Chairman Bankhead mildly suggested that Mulhall look at him instead of at his antagonists. Mulhall admitted he was somewhat nervous but insisted that witnesses have been intimidated since they were brought to Washington on the stand as well as inside this committee room.

Letters identified today covered a wide range of activity, but centered chiefly about the campaign in Indiana in 1908 when Mulhall, according to the documents, was working in close co-operation with Congressman James E. Watson and with national and state Republican leaders.

Raised Large Sum of Money.

Mulhall told the committee he raised $5,500 for that campaign. "One of the letters referred to this amount; and another mentioned a list of manufacturing concerns in South Bend, the proprietors of which had been visited by Mulhall in company with Peter Kline, deputy factory inspector for that district."

"In an interview I had with Mr. Parry and other large business men

MORTUARY

Clark.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Clark was held Friday afternoon at 3:30 from the home of her sister, Miss King and Mrs. Lottie K. Hatch, 830 West State street. Dr. A. B. Morey read a passage from the scripture and offered a prayer. Rev. Howard D. French spoke briefly of Mrs. Clark's life and spirit, closing with a word of prayer.

Mr. French said in part: "To those of us who have known Mrs. Clark her unceasing patience and fortitude have been an inspiration. We know too that the patient spirit, her bravery, her long suffering, were so because she had with her an Unseen Friend. For many years she has been in weakened health and to most of us an existence like hers seems a non-reality, something that we cannot experience. Yet we should know from the lessons of life that not all of us can escape pain and sorrow. We know not what the future holds for us or our dear ones in this respect. And as I think on such things and of the patience and bravery which must accompany suffering of a mind and body I am impelled to commend to you anew the power that comes from the indwelling of that presence. We realize that after all it is life and not death that is a terrible thing. I do not believe that there is one of us who, confronted with the choice of living here on earth forever or a passing on, but would choose the latter. If the weaknesses and the failings which come with age were ours and we knew that there was no change for us but to keep on growing weaker and more helpless, how great would be the anguish of our minds and spirit. So we can remember today and think of the going of Mrs. Clark not as a sorrow for her, not as a loss, knowing that now she walks with her Shepherd through green pastures and beside the still waters."

"I believe that as we grow older we are able to look back upon our ideas of death just as we are able to look back upon our childish vision of the dark. Mrs. Clark's life brought with it so much of the spirit of service and her condition was such that her mind was filled with Christly thoughts and she inspired such thoughts in others. Pain racked her body but she never ceased to wish that she might be helpful to others, and her own sympathy, her pity inspired a kindred feeling in those who knew her. I never left her room, and I think it was true of each and every one who visited her, without feeling anew and more keenly how great is the power of the unseen and how wonderful it is that we may have that spirit within us which will make it possible for us to forget in a large measure, our own sorrows and troubles and to wish only that we may serve. Today I would leave with you this thought which is of such vast importance in our lives, that we make as our goal a realization of intimate fellowship with the unseen."

After Mr. French had offered a prayer in which he again referred to the inspiration of the life just closed the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery where Mrs. Clark was laid to rest in a flower covered grave. Rev. Mr. French said the committal service and the flowers were cared for by Mrs. George Hellinger and Miss Kate Springer. The bearers were Charles C. Capps, W. E. Veitch, J. W. Lane, John G. Reynolds, Green M. Luttrell and J. W. Walton.

Mrs. Clark before her marriage was Miss Julia King and she was born October 1st, 1846 in Lexington, Kentucky, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. James King. Subsequent to the death of the father the mother and children moved to Illinois in 1868 making Jacksonville their home. In October 1869 the deceased was married to George W. Clark who was for years prominent in Jacksonville as an artist and photographer. Practically all of their married life was spent in Jacksonville although for a time they were residents of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Clark died July 20, 1906.

Two sons were born to them, George W. Jr., who died June 22, 1911 and James Milton whose life came to an untimely close in 1901. At the time of the death of her younger son, Mrs. Clark was in poor health and the shock of his sudden going was such that from that day she began to grow weaker. It was not long until she became a confirmed invalid and so for twelve years with failing strength she sat in her arm chair, living in the past, hoping for the future, awaiting with eagerness the glad reunion with loved ones. Through the long years as a shut-in Mrs. Clark has been an example of hopefulness and cheerfulness and her patience has been unending. Tender and loving ministrations have been her lot from her sisters and all in their power was done to make the long days and months and years move as brightly as possible. Mrs. Clark was a member of State Street church and took an active part in the work of the church as long as her health would permit. Three sister and a brother survive Mrs. Clark, they are Mrs. L. K. Hatch and Miss Fannie King of this city, Mrs. A. W. Atwood of Plattsburgh, Neb., and William King whose home is in California.

Kerr. Mrs. E. A. Lane of Riggston, Scott county has received word of the sudden death of her son-in-law, J. C. E. Kerr, who died at his home in Pearsall, Texas. Mr. Kerr was born in Ohio, but spent sometime in Scott county where he had many friends. He had been residing in San Antonio, Texas for a great many years, at which time he was employed as a mail clerk on a railroad. For the last few years the family had been living on a farm near Pearsall, Texas. He is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters.

Liter. Funeral services for Mrs. G. B. Liter were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist church in Lit-terbury in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends and the services were impressively conducted by Rev. W. H. Dickman of Carrollton. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Miss Annabel Crum, Mrs. Edward Liter, J. S. Hitchens and J. A. Liter and the flowers, which were many and beautiful, were cared for by Mrs. David Blair, Miss Pearl Young, Miss Carrie Henderson and Miss Cora Daniels.

Interment was made in the Litterberry cemetery and the bearers were David Blair, Charles Ratcliffe, John Daniels, Arthur Liter, Ernest Young and Edward Liter.

Knobs has a splendid line of light weight underwear and "soft" shirts.

TELLS OF EFFORTS TO

of this section, they clearly stated they were jumping the law as far as corporations are concerned subscribing to our campaign funds," said Mulhall in a letter to Schwedman from Indianapolis September 24, 1908. "There are a hundred and one ways to get around that and we all know that and I cannot see why Mr. VanCleave cannot go around it just as well as the large manufacturers here."

Correspondence read late in the day showed that the Indianapolis News had identified Mulhall as connected with them in September and had brought them into a public discussion. The Citizens' Industrial Association of America, with C. W. Post as its president and many officers of the National Association of Manufacturers on its list, figured prominently in today's proceedings. Several letters on the stationery of this association and signed James A. Emery, secretary, were read and Senator Reed suggested it was a "half brother" to the manufacturers' association.

One of these letters said: "Watson was not only the greatest help to us personally but he represented all the forces that did help us and I personally believe that we need friends in congress far more than anywhere else. Mr. Taft's labor statements are not at all encouraging."

Mulhall Perjured. S. Wood McClave, Republican candidate for congress, in a special election to be held in the sixth New Jersey district next Tuesday, came to Washington tonight and told the senate lobby investigating committee that Martin M. Mulhall, late "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers, had perjured himself in his testimony before the committee. McClave denied emphatically that Mulhall had raised or spent money for him, had managed his campaign or had been his close companion and associate during his fight against William Hughes for the Sixth district nomination in 1910. Mulhall, the witness swore, came unknown to him in his office in New York city in 1910, introduced himself and said he wanted to help him.

"It looked as though we're going to get the nomination," he quoted Mulhall as saying, "and I wanted to know how you stood on public questions?" McClave said he replied that he stood for protection and fair dealing to labor and that Mulhall responded: "Our organization stands for the same thing and wants to help you." He added that Mulhall insisted upon hiring two rooms in Paterson as headquarters but that he visited them only a few times and then saw only a few newspaper men. Mulhall had letters from Vice-president Sherman, Congressman Gardner and others, the witness said.

"It was my first experience," he added, "and I supposed that a man endorsed by such men must be all right."

Denies Witness' Charges. The New Jersey man had been held up to the committee by Mulhall yesterday as one whose meal checks and other expenses Mulhall had continuously paid and for whom Mulhall raised and spent more than $3,500. This McClave vigorously denied as absolutely without truth.

McClave said he could obtain no aid from the Republican national committee and that when Mulhall came as the representative of the National Association of Manufacturers, he said, he was willing to accept their assistance.

"What was the National Association of Manufacturers to get in return for the money it spent?" asked Senator Walsh.

"It was going to get a representative in the American congress who was in favor of protection to American industries," replied McClave.

He added that it had been said that William Hughes, his opponent, now senator, had received a $5,000 campaign fund from the American Federation of Labor and that he felt it was entirely proper for him to accept aid from the Manufacturers' association.

WHEAT YIELDS ARE UNUSUALLY LARGE

D. Leavitt Clark Gets 43 Bushels to the Acre From 60 Acres—Satisfactory Yield on Conklin Land.

The continued dry weather has been a great boon to the threshers and large quantities of grain are being threshed and hauled to the elevators. John Spainhower, who is on the farm of O. F. Conklin, located southeast of Alexander, has finished threshing. There were 40 acres and it made 32½ bushels to the acre. Alex E. Watrit of near Alexander who also farms land belonging to Mr. Conklin, reports 40 acres with over 30 bushels to the acre. Mr. Conklin says that this is not the yield measured at the separator, which is so often much larger than the actual yield, but is the production as measured at the elevator.

Joel Strawn of near Orleans has in 90 acres which made 27 to 28 bushels to the acre, elevator measure.

P. J. Crotty, who has in 40 acres on land owned by William Rountt, north of Woodson, secured 1472 bushels, which is better than 36 bushels to the acre.

D. Leavitt Clark of New Berlin has in one of the largest and best fields of wheat in the country. He has just finished threshing his 60 acres which made 43 bushels to the acre and weighed out 65 pounds. He has already delivered the grain to the elevator.

Samuel Butler, south of the city, has just finished threshing a field which made 42 bushels, measured at the separator.

NEW TIME RECORDER INSTALLED AT P. O.

A new time recording machine has been installed at the postoffice and when everything is perfectly arranged all employees, including those in the office, city and rural carriers will be required to "check up." The time recorder is made by a Cincinnati firm and consists of a large clock. At the base is a place to insert a card and when the lever is pulled the time is marked on the card. Each card is large enough to last a week so that the time an employee goes to work, leaves, or is off duty will be written on the card, a space also being reserved for the owner's name. Two racks will be provided to hold the cards and when a man is about the office or on duty these cards will be in one rack. Keeping the time of employees is no new thing at the office, nor has the government any fears that the men are taking advantage along this line in anyway. It is simply a means to make matters more simple, a registering scheme which has proved very beneficial in all the large factories and other big business concerns.

SENATORS WIN IN TWELFTH

Johnson Adds Another to His Long String of Victories by Defeating St. Louis 5 to 1.

St. Louis, July 18.—It was a heart breaker for St. Louis to day when the locals lost 5 to 1 at the end of a twelve inning affair. The visitors scored one in the fourth and St. Louis tied it in the eighth. No more runs were made on either side until the 12th when through careless playing on the part of the local nine and sharp work by the visitors the latter scored four runs. By winning this game Johnson added another game to his long string of victories. During the four innings the speed marvel pitched but one man reached first base and by virtue of an error by McBride.

THREE WARS CELEBRATION.
Stuebenville, O., July 18.—Elaborate plans are nearing completion for the three wars celebration to be held here next week. The celebration is intended primarily to commemorate the day the Confederate flag was carried through this city by a part of Gen. Morgan's command.

Stuebenville was the most northern point reached by the Southern colors during the civil war. The Morgan celebration will be combined with that of the George Rogers Clark expedition and the explorations of Baron Steuben, in honor of whom the city was named. Survivors of the war's command and their former foes will take part in the celebration. Many of the famous old military organizations of the East have also been invited to attend the festivities.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES

Commercialized boxing, which is holding on by a very slender thread in the Golden State, is likely to get a severe jolt as a result of the Kid Williams-LeDoux go at Los Angeles a few nights since. According to press dispatches, the French bantam champion, who was giving away considerable poundage to the Baltimore lightweight, at no time in the journey had a chance to win against the referee. Williams continually fouled the foreigner and protest after protest was entered in vain by LeDoux's handlers. The finish was a fitting burlesque for the whole. The Frenchman had slipped to his right knee from a foul blow delivered in the groin in the sixteenth round, when the referee raised the Baltimorean's hand in signal of victory. Physicians examined LeDoux and found he had sustained injuries from the fouling which will keep him in bed for several days.

Ban Johnson is angered over the treatment Jake Stahl received at the hands of President Jimmy McAleer. He summarizes the release as the reverse of good sportsmanship—and the end is not yet.

Frank Farrell avows he was gold-bricked in the Chase-Borton-Zelder trade, and wants the deal investigated. And this is the same Frank Farrell whom the metropolitan press prated so much about a short time ago as being "a dead game sport."

Midget Hauser, shortstop for the Cardinals, is in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, undergoing an operation for a misplaced cartilage in his right knee. This "heady" little product of Chicago's prairie has been out of the game nearly all season on account of his disability, but his shoes have been ably filled by another "waif" of the clay lots abutting Chicago's stock yards, Charley O'Leary.

Rumor has Bob Hedges seeking the club and franchise at Montgomery in the Southern league. It is presumed if he succeeds in making the deal, a good farm for his Browns will have been secured.

The Hoosier automobile party Thursday entered Utah from Grand Junction, Colo., over part of the Midland trail on their way to California. Thirty-two years ago, before the iron horse and the 100 pound steel rail "decreased" the country through which the autoists were escorted, this grand old trail was known as the "Bread and Milk Route." The farms of Mormons lined both sides of it. Unwashed gentiles traveling toward Salt Lake City on foot were feasted upon bread and milk by the "sanctified" ones. Love, money nor persuasion, however, could not separate the Mormons from a piece of butter or meat of any kind, and it was ridiculous to ask for a bed to sleep in. Hence upon their arrival in Salt Lake City an itinerant printer christened the trail the "Bread and Milk Route," and by this name it is yet known among many of the old-timers.

A mysterious meeting of Moguls Lennon, Tebeau and Cantillon of the American association was held in St. Paul on Wednesday. It leaked out that White Wings is much exercised over the inroads the Federal league has made in Kansas City, and it is said the meeting was held to devise ways and means to head off the pesky critter. Kansas City is one of the best baseball towns on the map; but the fans will not stand for a game of "rounders" when they pay to see one of baseball. And this is the way they are flocking to the Federals.

One of those hooligans who too frequently gains admission to the baseball parks was present at the Washington-Browns game at St. Louis on Wednesday and spoiled the pleasures of the other occupants of the grand stand by his harsh and filthy talk to Umpire Billy Evans throughout the game. At the close of the contest the umpire invited the ruffian to step down into the yard. When he did, Evans caught him by the arm and pulled him beneath the grand stand and was musing him up in grand style, when Omer Hedges intervened, the rowdy beating it out of the park and leaving a shirt sleeve in the umpire's hand for a souvenir.

There appears to be no way to head off the typewriters from inflicting a series of superior and accented letters to drop into the linotype channels. McGraw is in the conspiracy; he has "done gone" and signed a Cuban hurler to join his mad-cap Giants. Unless the score compilers soon combine and rechristen the increasing heterogeneous conglomeration the time honored box score will resemble a Chinese highlanders' summons to arms.

And to repeat, and to cogitate: Frank Farrell gold-bricked by the Old Roman. Wouldn't that "shivver your bunionics," as the deep sea skipper would put it.

TRADING IN STOCKS ON LARGER SCALE

FORWARD MOVEMENT RENEWED WITH VIGOR.

Rise Was the Most Comprehensive of Several Weeks—More Than One-fourth of the Trading Was in Steel.

(By Associated Press)

New York, July 18.—The forward movement in stocks was resumed today with vigor following the interruption yesterday of the advance which began several days ago. Trading was on a considerably larger scale and the rise was the most comprehensive of several weeks. Steel, Union Pacific, Reading, Canadian Pacific, Smelting, Harvester and various other stocks mounted 2 points or more with lesser gains for most of the remainder of the list. While the close was below the best prices in some cases, owing to realizing sales, no serious inroads were made on the day's gains. More than one-fourth of the trading was in steel, the keen demand for which apparently was due in large part to forced covering.

Movements of stocks here during the last few days have followed the European markets. Prices rose abroad on Wednesday and today and an advance here followed. Yesterday's reaction in London was followed by a reaction here. In addition to the foreign buying brokers said that there was a better demand for investments here today than had been the case for some time.

The course of New Haven was watched closely owing to the announcement over night of President Mellens' resignation.

Traders who view this development as bullish bought the stock marking up the price 2 points. Subsequently it fell off sharply, closing at a loss on the day of 2 1/2.

New Haven 6s lost 12.

SPREAD OF BLACK RUST BRINGS RALLY IN WHEAT

SOUTH DAKOTA ADDED TO LIST OF STATES AFFECTED.

News Meant That Plague is Present to Some Extent in Every State in the Spring Crop Belt.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, July 18.—Spreading of the blackrust infection had considerable to do today with rallying the wheat market after an early decline. Closing prices were steady at an advance of 1/2c to 3/4c net. Other leading staples also made gains—corn 1/2c to 3/4c, oats 1/2c to 3/4c and provisions 5c to 10c to 12c.

South Dakota was added today to the list of states reporting black rust in the wheat fields. This news meant that the plague was now present to some extent in every state in the spring crop belt as well as across the Canadian border.

Predictions of larger world shipments caused an opening dip in wheat prices and there was also a little setback near the end of the session. Longs taking profits were responsible for the fact that transactions showed only a moderate degree of strength.

Rain at a few places in Nebraska and Kansas gave corn a down turn at the start but prices rallied sharply after a prominent expert had stated that the crop outlook was poor over a large part of Illinois. The seemed to be no end to bullish dispatches from the west and southwest. Oats were affected a good deal by advices from Iowa telling of damage from heat.

In provisions, shorts covered freely. The incentives came from higher prices for hogs and from the bulge in coarse grain.

SOIL FERTILITY IS THE GREAT ISSUE

PROPER FARMING MEANS MUCH BESIDES GETTING GOOD CROPS.

Animal Husbandry Means More Money Than Continuous Grain Farming—Test of Ten Years Will Prove the Force of Statement—Diversified System is Best.

(By F. B. Mumford, Dean and Director of College of Agriculture, University of Missouri).

No system of farming can permanently endure which is unprofitable and at the same time does not provide for maintaining soil fertility. The fertility of the soil is not inexhaustible; it is not self-perpetuating. In a sense, soil fertility can be mined out of soil as coal can be mined out of the earth. When fertility of the soil has decreased beyond a certain point, then the cost of cultivation becomes too great, and we may have abandoned farms. This fact has been repeatedly demonstrated in the history of ancient and modern agriculture.

But it is also true that soil fertility may be so utilized that the continuous production of crops on the same land can be successfully accomplished. It is also a fact that the conditions of fertility are of such a nature that the natural productiveness of the average soil may be greatly improved and the total production of food crops largely increased. Improved systems of farming based on perfectly definite scientific principles are now being practiced, which are not only more profitable, but likewise successfully maintain the productiveness of the soil. It is equally apparent that no permanent system of agriculture can hope to endure which is not profitable. Any scheme of soil improvement or conservation that aims to benefit the generations which come after us, but fails to provide for the necessities of the people not living on the earth, will surely fail.

American systems of farming then must fulfill two conditions. They must be profitable and they must maintain or improve the fertility of the land. Live stock farming fulfills these two conditions. No system of farming so far devised has been so universally recommended to improve worn out soils or conserve the fertility of the average farm. Exclusive grain farming as practiced from New England westward to the Dakotas, has left behind a trail of depleted soils, and, where carried on for too long a time, ruined farms and abandoned homes have marked the way.

Some soils are today being reclaimed and profitably tilled as the result of changing from grain farming to stock farming. On the thin, sandy lands of Holland which were reclaimed from the sea, dairy farming has increased the value of farming lands from $50 to $500 or even $1,000 per acre. Holland today supports a population twelve times as dense at Illinois, and yet has an annual surplus of cheese and butter export, amounting to more than four dollars an acre. Denmark has had a similar history.

Profits in Live Stock. But is stock farming profitable? If live stock farming conserves fertility and is not profitable, then it need not be further considered. The census figures show conclusively that the net income per improved acre is greater from stock and dairy farming than from hay and grain farming. The average annual net income from stock and dairy farms in the United States for the ten year period ending with the year 1899 was $11.99, while the income from hay and grain farms was only $7.72 per acre of improved land.

Not only was the average income in the United States as a whole greater from stock farms, but in some of the more strictly grain growing states the same increased drainage will have to be given serious consideration. If you are planting these in beds, get a load of fairly coarse sand and mix it with the soil in proportion of 3 of soil to 1 of sand. In the field the type of soil you mention may be lightened by a generous application of straw, rough manure, applied preferably in the fall.

In regard to fertilizers, I have never carried on experimental work with these plants in regard to fertilizers, but can give you our experience. Our soil is a brown silt loam, somewhat lighter but richer than yours. We have used the same garbage for four seasons very successfully without an application of fertilizer other than a mulch of coarse manure or straw to prevent heaving during the winter. When the clump of perennial becomes too large, dig it up, cut away most of it, and plant again, mixing the soil around it with about one-fifth manure.

for large attention to live stock farming.

Comparative Figures. Animal husbandry is more profitable than grain farming. In any ten year period of American agricultural live stock farming has been more profitable than exclusive grain farming. It is no argument to say that the average stock farmer would have secured larger temporary gains by selling his grain instead of feeding to animals. Statistics have shown a larger net income per acre from live stock farms throughout the United States than from grain farms.

The highest type of farming is found in those localities where skillful stock farming is the rule—in Denmark, Holland, Great Britain, France, Eastern Canada and the United States. It is undoubtedly true that greater intelligence, skill and efficiency are required for the successful management of a live stock farm than for the management of grain farms.

The yield of wheat in England has increased in direct proportion to the increase of the number of animals per cultivated acre.

The American farmer will always produce large areas of grass, of corn, of clover, of hay and other products having little cash value. The profitable utilization of these materials involves the feeding and keeping of animals. The permanent prosperity of American farmers and the conservation of our soil resources, both require increased attention to successful methods of stock husbandry.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Can you furnish me with some information in regard to the value of annual flowering plants, and a list of the best ones to be purchased?

Answer: Many annuals are valuable for cut flowers. In selecting annuals care should be taken to select only those that produce flowers for a long period. Annuals can be used to good advantage in perennial and shrubby borders for filling in vacant places, and in beds near the dwelling. The border method is more informal and, therefore, the simpler. Among the best annuals for cutting are: Nasturtiums, Mignonette Sweet Peas, China Asters, Marigolds, Cosmos, Zinnias, Scabiosa, Phlox, Calendula, Centaureas, Tulip Poppies, Sandy-Tuft, Verbena, Stocks, Larkspur, Snap Dragon, and Salpiglossias. Among the best annuals for bedding and borders are: Pansies, Gaillardias, Celosias, Salvia, Calliopsis, Ornamental Tobaccoes, Ageratums, California Poppies, Tulip Poppies, Marigolds, Zinnias, Phlox, Sweet Peas, Annual Pinks, Foxgloves, Amaranths and Castorbeans. The following annual vines are valuable for covering walls, fences, trellises, windows and for shading verandas: Ipomoea, Sweet Peas, Thunbergias, Nasturtiums, Cypress Vine, Japanese Hop and Gourds. There is no end to the number of varieties on the market and we would recommend the use of a few of the newer things each year. It is always well to keep in mind that the best seeds obtainable are the cheapest in the end, and that the best results can only be obtained by the use of the best material and careful attention.

Question: I am looking for a fertilizer that when added to my black clay loam will force the bloom of field grown stock such as Dahlias, Gladioli, Tritomas and hardy perennials. I should be glad to receive any literature you have on the subject and the benefit of your experience in growing them.

Answer: My advice in answer to your inquiry of June 24th will have to vary somewhat, depending on whether you are planning to grow these on a large scale or simply to fill a few beds. All of the flowers mentioned and perennials in general do best on a sandy, easily draining soil, and I judge that to obtain good drainage will have to be your first consideration. If you are planting these in beds, get a load of fairly coarse sand and mix it with the soil in proportion of 3 of soil to 1 of sand. In the field the type of soil you mention may be lightened by a generous application of straw, rough manure, applied preferably in the fall.

"GRAND OLD MAN OF CRICKET"
London, July 18.—Dr. William G. Grace, known throughout the English speaking world as the "Grand Old Man of Cricket," received the congratulations of a host of admirers today on the occasion of his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. "W. G." as he is familiarly called by devotees of the game, is universally conceded to be the greatest cricketer who ever played. In first-class matches he has played no fewer than 126 three-figure innings—125 in England and one in Australia—and in all kinds of cricket he has hit as many as 217 hundreds, a feat which no other cricketer has approached. He has also on seven occasions accomplished the double feat of scoring 1,000 runs and taking 100 wickets in one season. At the age of 65 Dr. Grace is still as keenly interested in cricket as he was in the days when he was learning the game in his father's orchard with three dogs to assist in the fielding.

FARM ASSOCIATIONS DOING GOOD WORK

LED BY COUNTY ADVISERS THEIR ACTIVITY REACHES IN MANY DIRECTIONS.

Four Hundred Farmers Made Study of Methods and Conditions in Livingston County—Interest Grows in Alfalfa Culture—Kankakee Association Has Encouraged Use of Lime and Phosphate.

(By B. E. Powell, Department of Publications, Illinois College of Agriculture).

The farm improvement associations, under different names, in the various counties of the state have been carrying on some active campaigns during the last thirty days. Some nine counties having chosen agricultural advisers have proceeded immediately to inoculate them with the germs of enthusiasm and like the tiny bacteria on the alfalfa roots they needs must hustle days, nights, and—Sundays.

On June 17, Roy C. Bishop, county adviser for Livingston county, led an automobile train of 400 farmers through the rich farm lands of that county to study the results on farms that have begun to follow the Illinois system of permanent agriculture. These farmers learned, if they did not already know, that rotation of crops alone will not maintain the fertility of the soil. Some of the large Chicago newspapers that have been leading articles on these subjects have not yet discovered that there is an Illinois system of permanent agriculture. There is no special need, however, to wait for them to watch up. Livingston county's example of finding out what is being accomplished in their midst is a good one.

Alfalfa Campaigns

From June 23 to June 28 J. E. Readhimer, agricultural adviser, engineered an alfalfa campaign through Kane county. On this trip some fifty automobiles carried a large party of farmers, business men, newspaper men and others to meetings at farm homes, village halls, creameries, barns and on lawns.

The needs of growing alfalfa, its value as a crop, as feed, and as an enricher of the soil was repeated many times to the farmers gathered at the meetings.

On June 26 John S. Collier, agricultural adviser, and officers of the Kankakee Soil and Crop Improvement association headed a delegation of 450 farmers from Kankakee county to the agricultural college and experiment plots at the University of Illinois. These farmers came on a special train of the Illinois Central and was the largest delegation that ever came from a single county to visit the Illinois fields. It should be noted that about one hundred ladies accompanied the visitors and they were just as active in their interest to see and to hear as were the men.

On July 8 to 11 E. B. Heaton, agricultural adviser, conducted the "Alfalfa Special" through DuPage county. Here again the farmers were told of the great advantage in raising alfalfa on their farms. On account of the great dairy interests in DuPage, Kane and McHenry counties an increased acreage of alfalfa will help in solving some of the vexed questions that now make the dairymen very unhappy.

In each of these campaigns, besides alfalfa talk, one heard much said about the need of limestone to sweeten the soil, of the increased yields by the use of raw rock phosphate, of the need of potassium on peaty swamp soils, and that the commercial fertilizers are not needed, and are unnecessarily expensive.

We have some data at hand that illustrate well the great aid these farm improvement associations can give to their members. The Kankakee association is about two years old. Last year over 400 cars of limestone were used in the county. This spring $14,000 worth of clover was sown by members of the association. This year about 75 cars of raw phosphate will be used, an average of about one car per farm. It is estimated that 1,600 acres of alfalfa will be put in this summer and fall. The association distributed $9,000 worth of muriate of potash to its members this spring. This is the plant food element particularly needed in the peaty swamp land that is to be found in Kankakee county.

These are only some of the ways—but they are extremely convincing—in which the associations are benefiting the agriculture and the community life in their respective counties. It does not take much of a prophet to predict that the work in these counties in the next two years will far eclipse the work accomplished in the last two years. Great changes are underway and it may be a real revolution in agricultural methods and practices has already begun. If so, long live the revolution!

CERTAIN VALUES IN DAIRY REGISTRY

OFFICIAL TESTS BRING ABOUT GOOD RESULTS.

Records of Sales Show That Buyers Are Willing to Bid Up For Stock When Proof is At Hand What the Animals Have Produced—Breeder's Interest Measured By Plans He Follows.

(B. W. W. Yapp, Department of Dairy Husbandry).

It would be considered poor business policy for a man to long continue on the racing circuit with a horse that did not prove a constant winner. Applying the same principle to the dairy business, surely it is equally bad policy to continue keeping cows that have not proved their worth as producers. To the man who depends upon the production of milk and butter for his profit, it may be sufficient that he be satisfied in his own mind as to the productive capacity of his cows. If, however, occasion should demand the sale of these cows, or their offspring, he must then satisfy the mind of the buyer as to the productive value of the cows. To meet the growing need of convincing the "Other Fellow" as to the productive ability of cows, systems of advanced registry have been established whereby pure bred registered animals may be listed after they have officially produced the requirements for their age and breed.

Owners of pure bred dairy cattle who have not conducted official tests or are not familiar with the rules governing such tests may secure the information which they desire by writing to the state agricultural experiment station or the state agricultural college of their own state.

The Value of Testing.

It has long been considered that the initial value of testing lies in the fact that it increases the value of animals which have qualified for advanced registry. Naturally the question that is foremost in the mind of the practical owner is—how much will testing a cow increase her value? To answer that question at all accurately it is necessary to know the size of the record, the period which it covers and the breeding of the cow; yet by taking the average price of a large number of tested and untested cows, a fairly accurate estimate of the value of a record, may be gotten so far as the selling price of the cow itself is concerned.

At five of the leading Holstein-Friesian sales in this country this year a total of 107 non-record cows were placed at auction and sold at an average price of $288 per head. At the same sales of 171 cows, with practically the same breeding, but possessing official records sold at an average price of $465 per head. A comparison of the sales shows that there is an average difference of $177 per head in favor of the cow with official backing. In making the separation all cows with official records were considered and no attention was paid to the size of the record. Great as is the increased value of a cow due to an official test, it is of minor importance compared to the added value transmitted to her offspring incident to the record which she holds.

Records Bring Up Prices.

At the five sales mentioned above there were also 104 heifers placed at auction whose dams had no official records. The heifers, whose dams did have records—these sold at an average price of $341 per head, or $132 in favor of heifers from record dams. Breeders are so thoroughly familiar with the fact that it does not pay to place at auction, bulls from non-record dams that practically none of that kind were sold at these sales, consequently they furnish no satisfactory basis for comparison.

With the above facts confronting the breeder of pure bred dairy cattle it needs no further argument to convince him that testing does increase the value of his herd. Furthermore, official testing, especially the making of creditable records, serves as an advertisement and increases the volume of business.

Breeders all over the country are watching the lists of published records and as soon as the name of a certain owner who has not previously been prominent appears well up in the list they make mental note of the fact and consider him as a breeder of some importance. Those who are in the market for superior animals find out concerning the records, conclude that the animals must be the highest priced; but official testing backed by superior breeding and good individuality has produced the most valuable animals of every dairy breed. The increase in value due to testing lies in the fact that it increases not only the value of the cow, but of her offspring as well; a further value is that it serves as an advertisement and stimulates interest in the business.

HISTORIC SKETCH OF FENCES AND FENCING

EARLY STOCK LAWS WOULD HAVE LESSENED THE BURDEN.

Embankments an Early Substitute For Worm Rail Fence—Served as Protection From Fire as Well as Answering Other Purposes—Work Was Patterned After English Ideas.

(By Jno. G. Thompson, Department of Economics, University of Ill.)

In this and following articles we propose to discuss the second development that grew out of the early occupation of the prairie about 1840—namely the experiments with a view to finding an economical substitute for the worm rail fence, on account of the scarcity of timber.

Had the law providing for the confining of stock been enacted for the entire state at the very beginning of the occupation of the prairie, it is possible that the burden of fencing might have been somewhat reduced. There would still have been the necessity of providing fences to enclose the livestock, however, though herding might have been resorted to more extensively and the suggestions for tethering or even for soiling might have been acted upon to some extent. Still another proposal was for the owners of live stock in a neighborhood to co-operate and construct a common enclosure for their animals and then allow the cultivated land in general to lie open. But it was only gradually and step by step in different localities that the enclosure of stock was secured and, in the meantime, the expanding grain areas of the state had to be protected. Furthermore, there was in many cases necessity for "line" fences; and as the advisability of mixed farming instead of exclusive grain culture became evident, more or less fencing was seen to be required even in the districts most exclusively devoted to grain raising. A considerable saving was, however, effected in consequence of the earlier laws for the enclosure of hogs and sheep, since a much less complete fence was required to fence against the larger animals alone.

The Prairie Sod Fence.

One of the earliest proposed substitutes for the worm rail fence was a modified form of the English "ditch and embankment" fence, known as the "sod" or "prairie sod" fence—though the English custom of placing a hedge on top of the embankment was by no means always followed. This fence took greatly varied forms. Sometimes it consisted of a sod embankment without a ditch, sometimes of an embankment with a single ditch, and again of an embankment with a ditch on either side. Sometimes the sods were piled flat on the outside edges of the proposed embankment and the interior filled in with loose earth thrown out of the ditches. At other times the embankment of loose earth was sodded up on the slanting sides like the edge of a terraced lawn. In other cases the ditch rather than the embankment was regarded as the central feature of the fence, the earth being thrown out on one or both sides into an embankment in a more or less supplementary way. Occasionally a hedge was set on top of the embankment, or a low post and rail fence took the place of the hedge; or, somewhat later, boards or smooth wire might replace both hedge and rail. The sod embankment varied from 3½ feet to 5 feet in height and sloped from a width of 5 feet at the base to about 2½ feet at the top. The side ditches were from 3 to 4 feet wide at the top and ranged from 2 to 3 feet in depth, and narrowed to perhaps the width of the spade at the bottom. The ditches, when incidental to the embankment, served to keep the cattle, which took great delight in tearing down the embankment with their horns once they reached it, at a distance and afforded drainage and supplied drinking water for the stock in the 'bargain. When made by hand at the rate of two to four rods per day, the cost of this fence ranged from a little over 30 cents per rod, and board for the men, for the embankment with a single ditch and twice as much for the double ditch and embankment. As early as 1842, however, a diploma was awarded by the Union Agricultural society for a machine designed to "cut drains and make sod fences," at an expense but trifling—it was believed—as compared with the cost by hand. A little later machines of this sort became quite common in some sections, but the sod fence was superseded and attention was then directed to the draining alone.

Afforded Fire Protection.

Apart from the evident advantages which a fence constructed of earth would have in a treeless region it was claimed that the ground stripped of sod on each side of the embankment afforded a double check for the dreaded prairie fire, and that such a fence was less expensive, and, if constructed properly and at the right season of the year, more durable than other fences. At any rate the low embankment, with a super-fence on top, was declared to afford a decided saving in the use of rails. On the other hand it seems that the action of the drought and frost favored the decay of the sod and facilitated that crumbling which the horns and hoofs of the live stock constantly furthered and all too soon, in most cases, these fences, no doubt often carefully constructed, were level with the ground, or required to be patched up in various ineffective ways. As early as 1834, in some sections, they had been tried out and abandoned; but in other sections they were found much later and were extensively used and perhaps reached their chief development in the 40's. By 1860, however, they were no longer constructed in Illinois, except in the form of a mere embankment in wet soil on which to plant a hedge fence.

er who is running an official test is interested in his work. He is interested because he knows that the cows being tested are increasing their value and the value of their offspring. He is interested because the cows are increasing their value as producers, but his greatest interest and leading source of consolation is that he is "making good" as a breeder of pure bred dairy cattle. Official testing alone has not produced the highest prices; but official testing backed by superior breeding and good individuality has produced the most valuable animals of every dairy breed. The increase in value due to testing lies in the fact that it increases not only the value of the cow, but of her offspring as well; a further value is that it serves as an advertisement and stimulates interest in the business.

afforded drainage and supplied drinking water for the stock in the 'bargain. When made by hand at the rate of two to four rods per day, the cost of this fence ranged from a little over 30 cents per rod, and board for the men, for the embankment with a single ditch and twice as much for the double ditch and embankment. As early as 1842, however, a diploma was awarded by the Union Agricultural society for a machine designed to "cut drains and make sod fences," at an expense but trifling—it was believed—as compared with the cost by hand. A little later machines of this sort became quite common in some sections, but the sod fence was superseded and attention was then directed to the draining alone.

Apart from the evident advantages which a fence constructed of earth would have in a treeless region it was claimed that the ground stripped of sod on each side of the embankment afforded a double check for the dreaded prairie fire, and that such a fence was less expensive, and, if constructed properly and at the right season of the year, more durable than other fences. At any rate the low embankment, with a super-fence on top, was declared to afford a decided saving in the use of rails. On the other hand it seems that the action of the drought and frost favored the decay of the sod and facilitated that crumbling which the horns and hoofs of the live stock constantly furthered and all too soon, in most cases, these fences, no doubt often carefully constructed, were level with the ground, or required to be patched up in various ineffective ways. As early as 1834, in some sections, they had been tried out and abandoned; but in other sections they were found much later and were extensively used and perhaps reached their chief development in the 40's. By 1860, however, they were no longer constructed in Illinois, except in the form of a mere embankment in wet soil on which to plant a hedge fence.

er who is running an official test is interested in his work. He is interested because he knows that the cows being tested are increasing their value and the value of their offspring. He is interested because the cows are increasing their value as producers, but his greatest interest and leading source of consolation is that he is "making good" as a breeder of pure bred dairy cattle. Official testing alone has not produced the highest prices; but official testing backed by superior breeding and good individuality has produced the most valuable animals of every dairy breed. The increase in value due to testing lies in the fact that it increases not only the value of the cow, but of her offspring as well; a further value is that it serves as an advertisement and stimulates interest in the business.

PROTEIN FOODS MAKE DAILY NITROGEN LOSSES

CHEMISTS DIFFER IN OPINION OF VEGETABLE DIET.

Government Has Issued Bulletin On Question of Nutritive Values—Farmer's Tables Are Often Too Lavishly Spread.

(By N. E. Goldthwaite, Assistant Professor of Household Science).

As previously pointed out in a preceding article the human body depends upon food protein to make good its daily nitrogen losses. These daily losses of nitrogen are due partly, at least, to the constant disintegration of the body proteins. The body proteins are fundamental to the life cells of the human organism. Under all conditions of life—fasting or feasting or eating normally—these life cells are constantly disintegrating, with a consequent daily loss of body nitrogen.

Whether it is better to make good this loss by the use of vegetable proteins, or by the use of animal proteins, scientific research does not yet tell us. Also, whether the best condition of health is maintained by a low protein diet, or by a high protein diet, physiological chemists are not yet agreed. The high protein authorities recommend that the daily diet of the adult, weighing 154 pounds, should contain 4 ounces to 5 ounces of protein, while the low protein authorities would cut this quantity in half.

Body Does Not Store Protein.

All physiological chemists are agreed, however, that the body does not store protein as it stores fat; that the body

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY TO WEBSTER MAYFIELD

Passed Away at the Family Residence in Carlville—Was Father of Mrs. Earl B. Wiswell of This City.

A telegram was received in the city Friday announcing the sudden death of Webster Mayfield, who died at 5 o'clock Friday morning at the family residence in Carlville. He had been in his usual health the day before and his passing away came as a great shock to his relatives and friends. He had practically lived his entire life in Macomb county and was accounted one of the prosperous farmers of that part of the state. He had just concluded a visit in Jacksonville with his daughter.

Mr. Mayfield was about 53 years of age and leaves one daughter, Mrs. Earl B. Wiswell of this city, and three sons, Mark, Alford and Webster Mayfield, all of Carlville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiswell left yesterday for Carlville to attend the funeral services, which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

ORNELLAS CASE WILL BE TRIED

Several months since in the county court Judge Brockhouse granted a continuance in the case of Samuel Ornellas, charged with selling liquor in anti-saloon territory. At the time the case was set for trial an affidavit from a physician was presented in court setting forth that the condition of Mr. Ornellas' health was such that an immediate trial was necessary. On this ground the continuance was granted. W. N. Haigrove, acting as attorney for Mr. Ornellas. Not very long afterward Mr. Ornellas returned and the case has been talked about a good deal since that time. Yesterday State's Attorney Tilton and Mr. Haigrove agreed that the case shall come to trial not long after July 24.

CAR SHOPS CLOSED DOWN.

It is too great a risk to depend upon neighbors or sending for medicine in case of a sudden attack of bowel complaint. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from cholera morbus that could have easily been saved had the proper medicine been at hand. ### IMPROVEMENTS CONTEMPLATED ON JACKSONVILLE STREET RAILWAY

Passenger Service Will Run From Car Shops to Nichols Park Without Change—Cars Will Stop on Near Side of Streets.

W. B. Miser, the newly appointed superintendent of the Jacksonville Street Railway and Light Company has under contemplation a number of changes on the system which he expects to put into execution at the earliest date possible, and that will facilitate matters not a little for the traveling public.

One of the changes will be that all cars will stop on the near side of the streets, which has not been the rule followed in Jacksonville. This innovation will save time, be a great means of preventing accidents, especially when automobiles or other vehicles are at the crossings at the time. This stopping rule will hold good at all places except at curves when the cars will stop after the curve is made.

Another change contemplated is that continuous street car services will be inaugurated between South Main street and North Main street. The switches now on the square are not adequate for this service but Mr. Miser is having the blue prints made for switches. When the track is completed it will be possible to ride without change from the C. P. & St. L. shops to Nichols Park.

Mention has already been made of the contemplated change at the East State street crossing. For sometime the street cars have not crossed the railroad tracks. The C. P. & St. L. railroad has already given its consent for the cars to cross at the grading which also means that the crossing will not object as they leave their right-of-way through the C. P. A favorable reply is expected from the Chicago and Alton. After the continuous service from the end of East State street to the square is made the short line on Illinois avenue will be abandoned. This spur is little traveled and oftentimes when the railroad tracks are filled traffic is greatly impaired. The new superintendent has some other ideas which he expects to carry out in the near future for the betterment of the service including a change in the form of transfer tickets now used. It will be two or three months before the through service on South Main and North Main street can be inaugurated.

Garland & Co's mid-summer clearance sale starts today.

VIRGINIA LAW SUITS.

Virginia Gazette: The suit of Robert Hall against James Rogers for possession of a four hundred acre farm near Philadelphia was decided by a jury in favor of Mr. Hall. The case was decided at a trial last spring before Justice J. W. Hall in favor of Rogers, and an appeal was taken to the county court. Both parties to the litigation are losers, as the tenant has held possession of the land but has put in no crop.

Rogers claimed the right to hold the farm, which he had leased for several years, alleging a verbal contract for its occupancy this year. After the first trial of the case his horses, grain and implements were sold under a chattel mortgage held by the landlord. He kept possession of the land but could not farm it owing to the loss of his implements. The damage suit of Edwin Beggs of Ashland against the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad was settled without a trial. The claim was for damages for leakage of grain from cars and delay in delivering a shipment to its destination.

TEXAS TO VOTE ON AMENDMENTS

Austin, Texas, July 18.—At a general election tomorrow several proposed amendments to the constitution of Texas will be submitted to the voters of the state for their adoption or rejection. Another amendment proposes to empower the legislature to prescribe salaries for state, county, district and precinct officers, abolishing the fee system.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

A breakfast at the lake Friday morning was the closing event of a delightful kimono party given by Mrs. Ray Hartman of South Main street to eight of her young lady friends. The party attended the Grand Opera house Thursday evening. Other features of this much enjoyed social event were music, games and refreshments. The guests of Mrs. Hartman were Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson and Misses Lura Wiswell, Ruth Taylor, Helen Reaugh, Agnes Rogerson, Irene Cox, Hazel Strawn and Helen Ingalls.

The Inner Circle Bible class held a very successful penny social at the home of the Rev. Frank Gruenewald Friday night. There was a good attendance of members. The proceeds of the evening will go toward a Christmas box which the circle will send to Khandwa, India, where Miss Cornelia Gruenewald, a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Gruenewald is located. Other things will be added to the box which will be sent about September 1. An orphanage is located at Khandwa which contains sixty-three girls.

BURLINGTON MAY BUY ANOTHER RAILROAD.

Is Said to be Seeking to Acquire the Minneapolis and St. Louis Line. The Burlington railroad is said to be trying to purchase the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, which was the property of Edwin Hawley prior to his recent death. Before he died he was considering an offer made by James J. Hill.

The Hill group has had its eye on this railroad for some time. It is said, as it would form a great connecting link for the Hill properties. The Burlington is compelled to haul via its Mississippi river division, all freight for St. Paul and the north originating south of Des Moines, between Omaha and Galesburg. If routed over the Minneapolis line, which the Hill group is anxious to get, it would save a haul of 300 miles.

The acquisition of the M. and St. L. railroad would give the Hill group the best route between St. Paul, St. Joseph and Kansas City.

The Missouri Pacific railroad is now operating through service from Kansas City to St. Paul by using the tracks of the Northwestern railroad with which it has traffic agreements. If the railroad is obtained by the Hills it will mean the extension from Storm Lake, Ia., to Omaha, Neb., and would give the shortest line between St. Paul and Omaha.

MANY ATTEND RECEPTION OF REBEKAH LODGE NO. 13

Interesting Program is Carried Out and Remainder of Time Spent in a Social Way.

Rebekah lodge No. 13 gave a reception in their new hall Friday evening to all Rebekahs of the city, Odd Fellows and members of Odd Fellow families. There was a large attendance and nothing was left undone to extend a cordial welcome.

F. E. McDougall acted as chairman of the evening and in welcoming the guests he said: "We are glad to see so many of you on such a warm evening. Our lodge has ever been a place of progress, looking for that which is for the pleasure and comfort of its members and so when this beautiful temple was completed and we were given the opportunity to have a home within its walls we did not hesitate to accept. True it means an additional expense and some hard work for our members but the satisfaction of having such a home amply repays us for the financial and other sacrifice. We have invited you here tonight to inspect our beautiful home and to enjoy an evening with us and so in the name of Jacksonville Rebekah lodge No. 13, I again bid you a cordial welcome."

Mr. McDougall then announced the following program, which was well given:

"America"—Audience.
Prayer—Rev. Hy S. Alkire.
Address—Rev. Walter E. Spoon.
Violin solo, "King Lear and Cordelia"—Miss Frances Leck, accompanied by Miss Grace Van Houten.

Reading, "Holding a Seat at the Benefit" (May Isabel Fiske)—Miss Sue Fox.
Vocal solo, "Trail of the Loane Pine"—Miss Beulah Carter; Miss Edna Carter acting as accompanist.
Song—"Blest be the Tie That Binds."

Prayer—Rev. Davis Martin.
A social hour followed the program and light refreshments were served. The Rebekah lodge No. 13 expects to hold a big initiation next Friday night.

The following were the committees in charge last night:
Entertainment—Miss Winnie Wackerle, chairman; Mrs. George Siegfried, F. E. McDougall and Mrs. E. L. Kinney.

Mr. Woodman said last night that he had not known of his brother's illness and no particulars had been sent, other than that he is in a hospital in a critical condition.

For a number of years Clarence Woodman served as manager in the Woodman bakery and during his Jacksonville residence formed many pleasant friendships. His friends and acquaintances here will sincerely regret to know of his severe illness.

GARLAND & CO.'S CLEARANCE SALE.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR WILL HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

To Leave Aug. 10 For Triennial Conclave at Denver—City to Be in Gala Attire.

Arrangements have been completed for the special train from Jacksonville to Denver, Aug. 10, for the accommodation of local members of the order who wish to attend the triennial conclave of the Knights Templar this year. Dr. R. R. Buckthorpe, John S. Hackett and William Farlee, the committee in charge of the arrangements announce that at least seventy-five Sir Knights and twenty-five ladies will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend this international gathering. The Knights Templar will be assembled in Denver Aug. 12 to 15.

Over $150,000 has been raised by the members of the order in the convention city to accommodate their visiting brethren. The city of Denver will be in gala attire for the occasion and the decorations which are being planned surpass anything done at any time by other convention cities. Over one hundred thousand Knights Templar and ladies are expected to be in attendance.

WILL BE SENT TO ST. CHARLES

Marion Colbridge, the boy who was arrested Wednesday for an attempt to steal a horse will be sent to Virginia this morning from where he will be committed to the state school for boys at St. Charles. The boy has already served time in the school at St. Charles, from Cass county. He has been confined in the county jail until ready to be returned to Virginia for his commitment to the state school.

The horse and buggy which young Colbridge tried to steal belongs to Mr. Moxon of near Diamond Grove. It was taken from the Becker lot.

Don't decide on that suit until you have seen Garland & Co.'s and compared prices.

UNLOAD COAL AT NIGHT

If you happen in the railroad yards almost any night now you can hear the rattle of coal as it finds its way down steel shutters from the car to the bins. The reason for this night work is the extremely hot weather and the moon has made it possible to do the work after the sun has gone down. Much of the work of unloading storage coal is paid for by the car so that the men choose their own time about doing it and they would rather work at night and rest during the day time hours when the sun rays are hottest. There is no place on earth hotter than a railroad yard in the summer time with the sun streaming down on steel rails and steel cars.

The weather prophets say there is no end of the hot spell in sight.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

In the absence of the regular pastor Rev. Clyde Darsie, J. H. Booth of Kansas City will preach Sunday morning and evening. All members are especially urged to attend both services and give to the minister of another city a courteous welcome and attentive hearing.

BEARDSTOWN MEN PLAN FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Are Trying to Get Springfield Men To Join With Them in Special Movement—Betterment Plan Suggested by Tice Road Bill and Wauhansee Trail.

Beardstown business men are taking great interest in a proposition to join with Springfield business men to push a plan for the improvement of the road between the two cities. The Springfield News in outlining the project of the Beardstown men gave the following facts:

"The Wauhansee trail and the state aid proposition of the Tice good roads law for the basis of a scheme in which the business men of Beardstown hope to secure the co-operation of the business men of Springfield. The scheme is to improve the old Beardstown road between the two cities and in order to do this, state aid is to be asked under the provisions of the Tice act by the counties of Cass and Sangamon. The fact that the county board is to be called in session at an early date to adopt the necessary resolutions to secure the pro rata share of the state aid fund of $1,100,000 available for this year lends additional interest to all plans for road improvement in this county."

The Wauhansee Trail.
"A committee of Beardstown business men, consisting of George F. Kuhlman, secretary of the Beardstown Chamber of Commerce, John Brooker and Charles A. Schaeffer were in the city yesterday afternoon to consult with members of the Springfield Commerce association and paid a visit to the office of Secretary Harry M. Snape."

"They pointed out the fact that the Wauhansee trail has been laid out over the old established route from Springfield to Keokuk Ia., via Beardstown and Rushville. They will endeavor to have the county of Cass build a good hard road from Beardstown to the county line just this side of Ashland if the county of Sangamon will build a road from that point on into Springfield, thus giving a good highway for forty-seven miles connecting the two cities and intermediate towns. They request that the Springfield Commerce association take the matter up with the board of supervisors immediately so that no time will be lost in securing from the state the money necessary to carry out the scheme."
